

ACADEMIC PROFILE

ABHEC

American Board of Higher Education Commission

www.abhec.us

Government Funding and Non-Profit Nature

While ABHEC receives government funding to support its operations, it remains firmly rooted in its non-profit ethos. This funding enables ABHEC to fulfill its mandate of accrediting post-secondary educational institutions without compromising its commitment to impartiality and integrity. As a non-profit organization, ABHEC reinvests its resources into its accreditation processes, infrastructure, and initiatives aimed at enhancing educational quality and accessibility.

In essence, the American Board of Higher Education Commission stands as a beacon of excellence in the realm of higher education accreditation. With a legacy built on integrity, expertise, and a steadfast dedication to the public good, ABHEC continues to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of academic excellence in the United States.

ABHEC
American Board of Higher Education Commission

Our Value

ABOUT US

Established in 1895, the American Board of Higher Education Commission(ABHEC) stands as one of the seven regional accrediting bodies in the United States. With a rich history spanning over a century, ABHEC has been a stalwart in ensuring the quality and integrity of postsecondary educational institutions across the nation. As a non-profit organization, ABHEC operates with a steadfast commitment to serving the public good through its rigorous accreditation processes.

ABHEC
American Board of Higher Education Commission

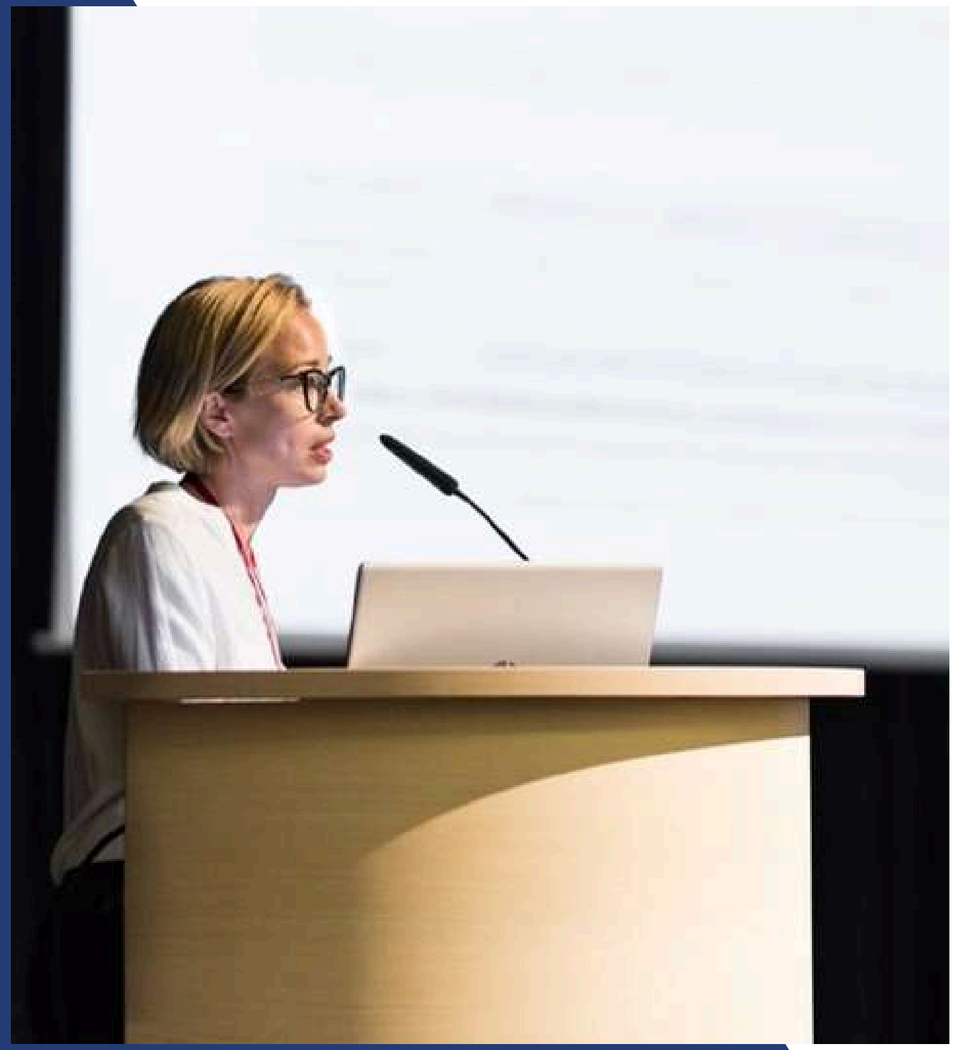

American Board of Higher Education Commission

Vision & Mission

At the heart of ABHEC's mission is the pursuit of fair, transformative, and reliable accreditation. With a focus on higher education quality assurance, ABHEC aims to foster excellence in academic institutions, thereby benefiting students, member institutions, and society at large. By upholding stringent standards and practices, ABHEC endeavors to maintain the integrity and credibility of degrees awarded by accredited institutions.

ABHEC
American Board of Higher Education Commission

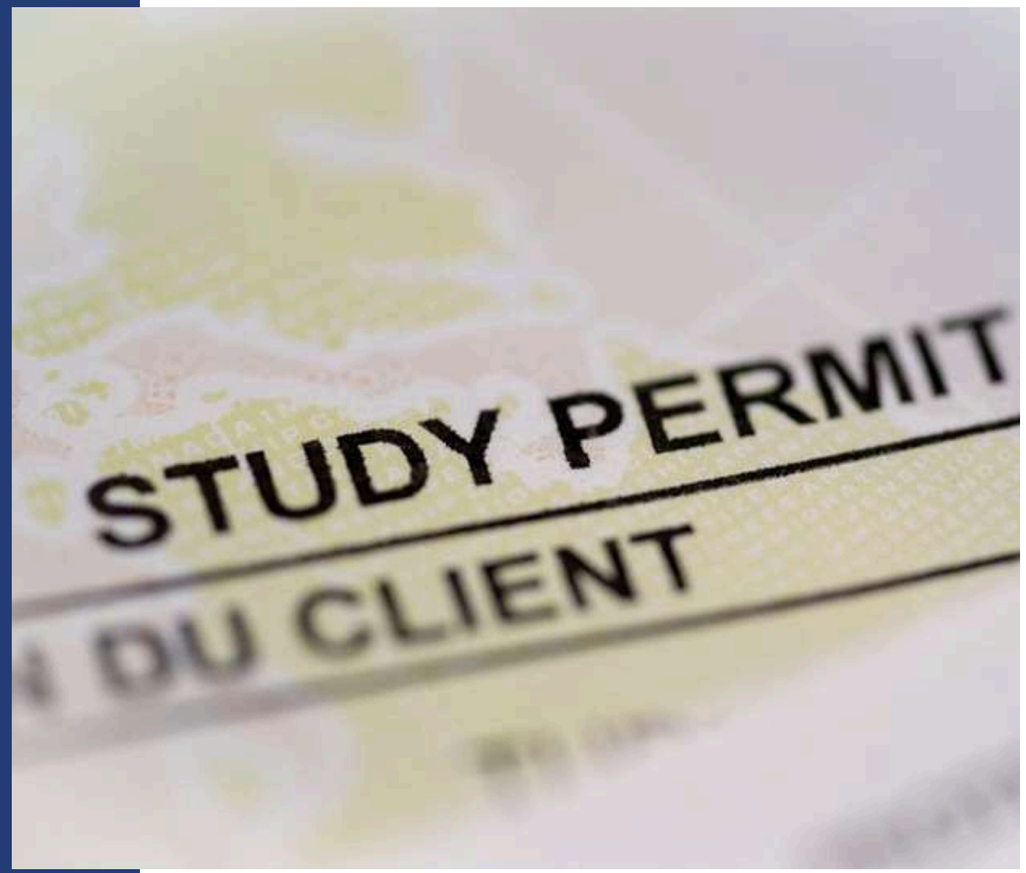

Governance Structure

ABHEC's governance structure is designed to ensure transparency, accountability, and inclusivity. A board of trustees, elected by members and ultimately selected by the President, oversees the organization's strategic direction and decision-making processes. Decision-making bodies, composed of institutional representatives and public members, play a pivotal role in evaluating member institutions and determining accreditation status. These bodies strive to reflect the diverse landscape of accredited colleges and universities, considering factors such as institutional type, size, control, and geographic distribution.

GOVERNMENT FUNDED & Non Profit

While ABHEC receives government funding to support its operations, it remains firmly rooted in its non-profit ethos. This funding enables ABHEC to fulfill its mandate of accrediting post-secondary educational institutions without compromising its commitment to impartiality and integrity. As a non-profit organization, ABHEC reinvests its resources into its accreditation processes, infrastructure, and initiatives aimed at enhancing educational quality and accessibility. In essence, the American Board of Higher Education Commission stands as a beacon of excellence in the realm of higher education accreditation. With a legacy built on integrity, expertise, and a steadfast dedication to the public good, ABHEC continues to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of academic excellence in the United States.

NOC & Education Permit

In many countries, the process of obtaining a No Objection Certificate (NOC) and an Education Permit is essential for individuals who wish to travel abroad for educational purposes or for students planning to study in foreign institutions while remaining in their home country. These documents serve various purposes, ranging from ensuring compliance with immigration regulations to facilitating educational opportunities for students.

NOC for Traveling Purposes

1

DEFINITION AND PURPOSE

A No Objection Certificate (NOC) for traveling purposes is a document issued by the relevant authorities, typically the government or educational institutions, certifying that the individual has no objection to traveling abroad for educational pursuits. It serves as proof that the applicant meets the necessary criteria and has obtained approval to pursue education overseas.

2

APPLICATION PROCESS

The process of obtaining an NOC for traveling purposes varies depending on the country and its specific regulations. Generally, applicants are required to submit an application form along with supporting documents such as proof of admission to a foreign educational institution, passport details, and any other relevant certificates or letters.

3

VERIFICATION AND APPROVAL

Once the application is submitted, authorities review the documents to ensure compliance with immigration and educational requirements. This may involve background checks, verification of academic credentials, and confirmation of financial resources to support the applicant's stay abroad. Upon successful verification, the NOC is issued to the applicant.

NOC for Traveling Purposes

4

VALIDITY AND RENEWAL

The validity period of an NOC for traveling purposes varies from country to country. In some cases, it may be valid for a single trip, while in others, it may be valid for the duration of the educational program. If the applicant intends to travel multiple times or extend their stay abroad, they may need to renew the NOC accordingly.

5

IMPORTANCE

The NOC for traveling purposes is crucial for students seeking to study abroad as it demonstrates their eligibility and authorization to pursue education in a foreign country. It also helps streamline the visa application process by providing evidence of compliance with immigration regulations.

Education Permit for Non-Traveling Purposes

1

DEFINITION AND PURPOSE

An Education Permit for non-traveling purposes is a document issued to students who wish to study in foreign educational institutions while remaining in their home country. Unlike an NOC for traveling purposes, an Education Permit allows students to enroll in distance learning or online education programs offered by foreign universities without physically relocating.

2

APPLICATION PROCESS

An Education Permit for non-traveling purposes is a document issued to students who wish to study in foreign educational institutions while remaining in their home country. Unlike an NOC for traveling purposes, an Education Permit allows students to enroll in distance learning or online education programs offered by foreign universities without physically relocating.

3

VERIFICATION AND APPROVAL

Authorities review the application to ensure that the educational program meets the necessary standards and requirements for accreditation or recognition. This may involve assessing the curriculum, faculty credentials, and infrastructure of the foreign institution offering the program. Upon successful verification, the Education Permit is issued to the student.

Education Permit for Non-Traveling Purposes

4

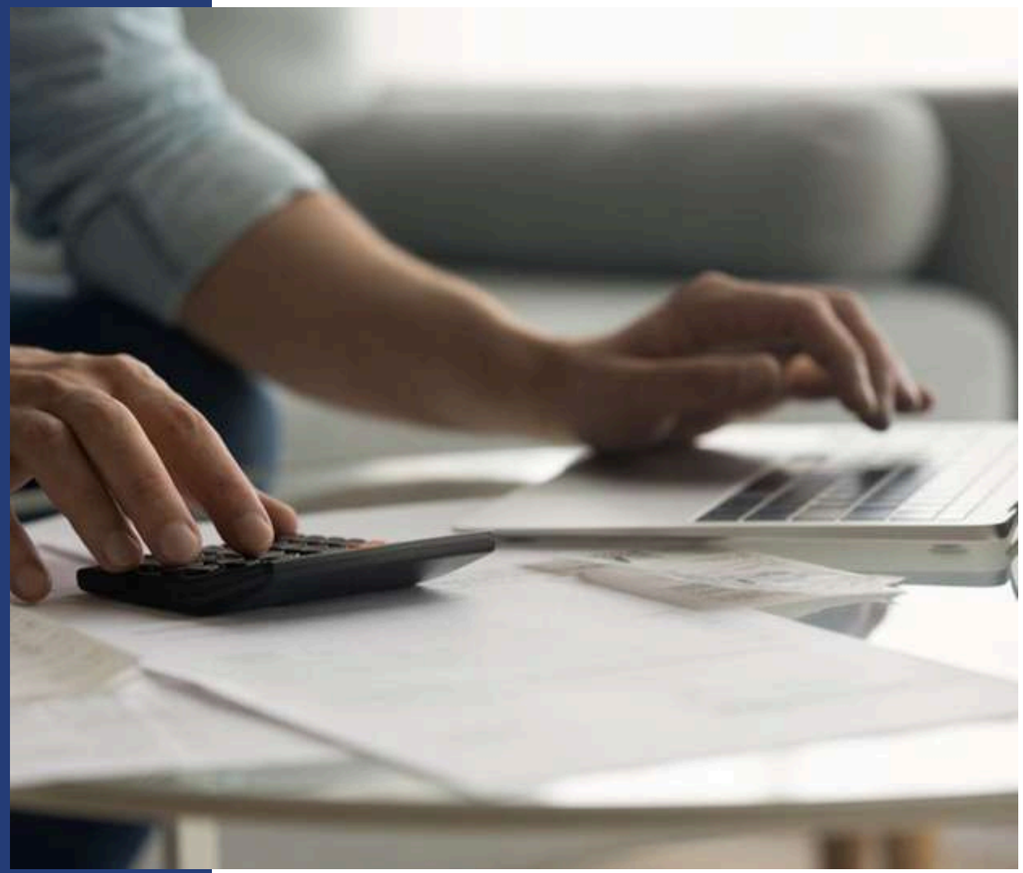

CONDITIONS AND RESTRICTIONS

While an Education Permit allows students to study in foreign educational institutions from their home country, there may be certain conditions or restrictions imposed. For example, students may be required to attend virtual classes, complete assignments, and participate in examinations as per the regulations of the foreign institution.

5

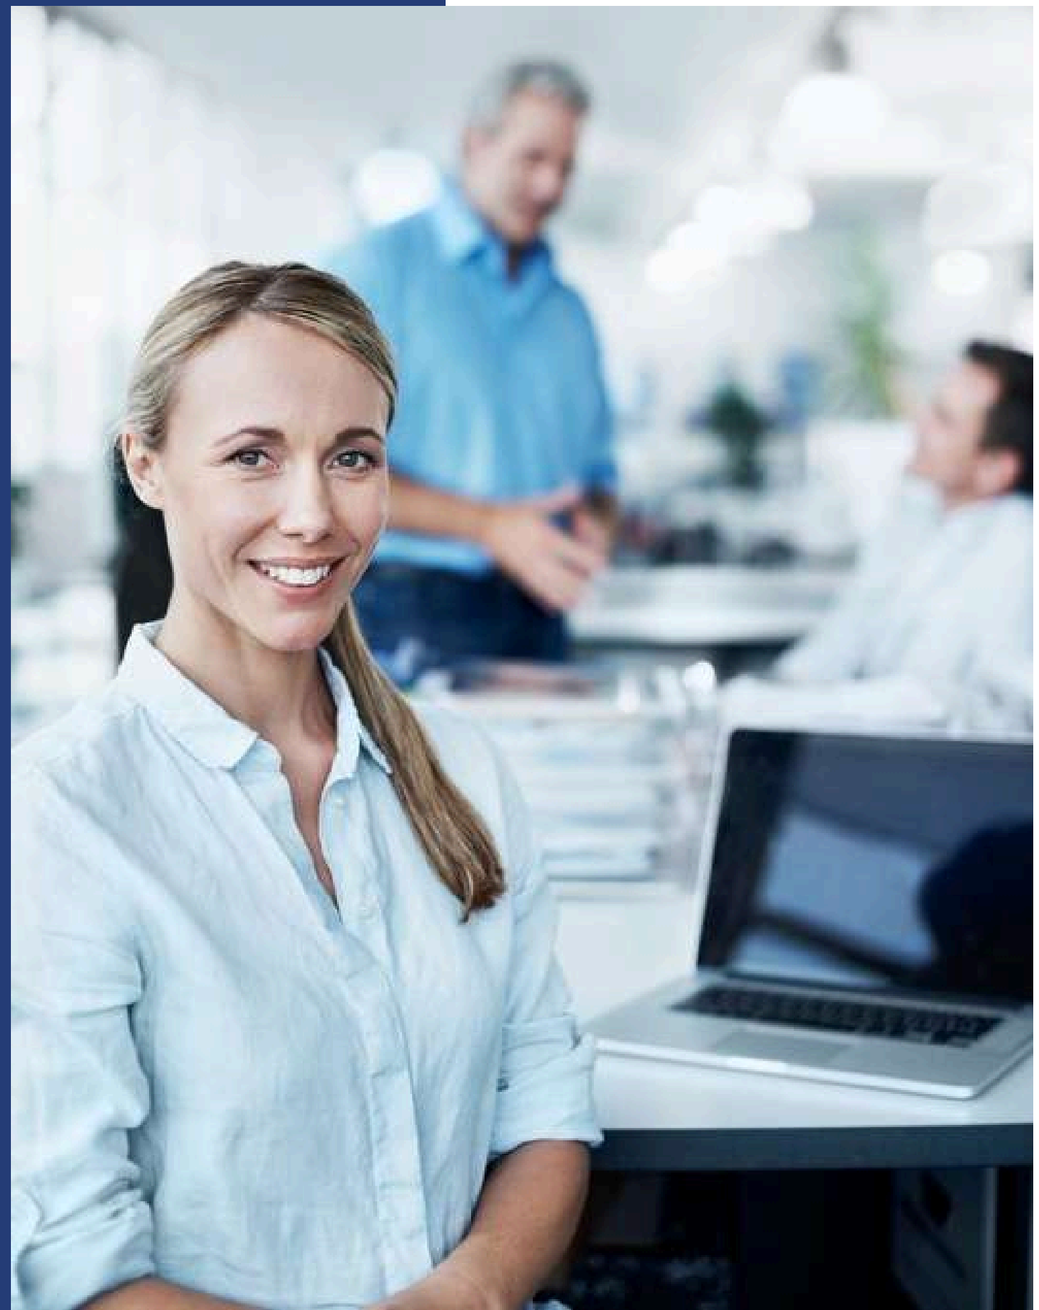

IMPORTANCE

An Education Permit provides students with the opportunity to access quality education from reputable foreign institutions without the need for physical relocation. It enables students to pursue academic endeavors while remaining in their familiar environment, thereby offering flexibility and convenience.

REGULAR FEE STRUCTURE

PROGRAMS	NOC FEE	EDUCATION PERMIT FEE
CERTIFICATIONS	$5,850	$11,850
ASSOCIATE DEGREE	$6,750	$13,990
BACHELOR'S DEGREE	$7,890	$13,990
MASTER'S DEGREE	$9,870	$14,870
DOCTORATE DEGREE	$11,850	$18,750

ABHEC
American Board of Higher Education Commission

Let's Connect With Us!

E-mail inquire-now@abhec.us

Website www.abhec.us